larger than life figures to be simply human and scientists he writes are rarely so human so at there mercy of their fears and desires as when they are confronting the limits of knowledge this is the secret fear that horgan pursues throughout this remarkable book have the big questions all been answered has all the knowledge worth pursuing become known will there be a final theory of everything that signals the end is the age of great discoverers behind us is science today reduced to mere puzzle solving and adding details to existing theories horgan extracts surprisingly candid answers to there and other delicate questions as he discusses god star trek superstrings quarks plectics consciousness neural darwinism marx's view of progress kuhn's view of revolutions cellular automata robots and the omega point with fred hoyle noam chomsky john wheeler clifford geertz and dozens of other eminent scholars the resulting narrative will both infuriate and delight as it mindless horgan's smart contrarian argument for endism with a witty thoughtful even profound overview of the entire scientific enterprise scientists have always set themselves apart from other scholars in the belief that they do not construct the truth they discover it their work is not interpretation but simple revelation of what exists in the empirical universe but science itself keeps imposing limits on its own power special relativity prohibits the transmission of matter or information as speeds faster than that of light quantum mechanics dictates uncertainty and chaos theory confirms the impossibility of complete prediction meanwhile the very idea of scientific rationality is under fire from neo luddites animal rights activists religious fundamentalists and new agers alike as horgan makes clear perhaps the greatest threat to science may come from losing its special place in the hierarchy of disciplines being reduced to something more akin to literary criticism as more and more theoreticians engage in the theory twiddling he calls ironic science still while horgan offers his critique grounded in the thinking of the world's leading researchers he offers homage too if science is ending he maintains it is only because it has done its work so well emily's contending with great changes including diminished powers but goes to london to rescue agent b and others from the cru where she makes horrible discoveries about the agency's history from michael cunningham the pulitzer prize winning author of the hours comes the acclaimed novel of two boyhood friends a home at the end of the world now a feature film starring colin farrell and dallas roberts jonathan there's jonathan lonely introspective and unsure of himself and bobby hip dark and inarticulate in new york after college bobby moves in with jonathan and his roommate clare a veteran of the city's erotic wars bobby and clare fall in love scuttling the plans of jonathan who is gay to father clare's child then when clare and bobby have a baby the three move to a small house upstate to raise their child together and with an odd friend alice create a new kind of family a home at the end of the world masterfully depicts the charged fragile relationships of urban life today a wake up call that argues that although it may be too late to save biodiversity we can take steps to save our ecosystems with the extinction rate at 3000
